

Mya McKinnon is the Production and Research Associate intern for “More Than Our Skin”. Mya is a senior at the University of Massachusetts Amherst studying English and Film Studies. Her goal is to become a screenwriter for film and/or TV. She has had a love of film since she was young. While in an after school program in Middle School, she used to make movie trailers by taking clips from other shows and movies clips online. She also enjoys reading and writing. She has had to write and produce her own podcast for a film course in college. She joined Hull Bay Productions for the opportunity to gain experience in the filmmaking process and is excited to be able to take part in an important film that will impact many.
